Conclusion and next steps

The mandate to proceed with the redevelopment using the design consulted on, is overwhelming.

A full purchase order will be raised in the week commencing Monday 21 August to commit the funds available.

Once the manufacturers have the order, they will begin the process of manufacturing the equipment. This will take between eight and 16 weeks depending on supply demands.

The exact date on which the installation process will begin will be confirmed in due course. As things stand, we are looking at a November install with a December completion.
